

CLAIRE WINDSOR MAPS FLYING LOVE TRAIL ACROSS U.S.

READ'S ASSES STATES TON BY STAR

"I Didn't Know of His Wife, Then He Said He'd Be Divorced"

Los Angeles, Aug. 31.—More love letters from Claire Windsor wrote to Alfred C. Read, young broker, were read today in the dramatic love balm suit being tried in superior court.

Mrs. Marian Read, Oakland, Cal., socialite, said Miss Windsor for $100,000, alleging the actress had stolen Read's affections.

Miss Windsor on the stand, told of ardent days and nights of courtship with Read.

He kissed her the night they were acquainted on an eastbound train, she admitted.

The actress said she was walking on a desert railroad station platform during a stop when Read introduced himself and asked if she would play bridge. She was willing.

Read, Miss Windsor intimated, was a fast worker. The next night "a gorgeous moonlit night somewhere in Kansas"—he kissed her as they stood on the observation car platform.

"I PUSHED HIM AWAY"

"I pushed him away the first time," Miss Windsor said.

"But you were not resentful after the first kiss?" I said, attorney asked her.

"No," she declared very affectionately.

"Yes."

She declared Read led her to believe on that romantic night that he was a single man.

Miss Windsor said Read suggested during the third night, when the train was somewhere in Illinois, that they get married at that time, she testified. Read admitted he was married, but, she said, Read declared he was separated from his wife and was planning a divorce.

Read spent several days in New York with Miss Windsor and then departed, declaring he would go to Reno to obtain a divorce. At the parting, she testified, Read cried.

"I told him not to come on if he was not a single man," she testified. "I don't want to continue with him unless he had a divorce."

"I LOVE YOU, SWEET"

A letter Miss Windsor wrote three hours after he had left New York was read into the evidence.

"Darling,"

"You have been gone only three hours. It seems strange to come up to my room and not call you to let you know I am here, and in a few minutes I'll be eating alone."

"Everyone seemed to know you were gone, for many came up to me and asked if I felt blue."

"I miss you dreadfully, my sweet. Give my love to you and my devoted love to you."

(Signed) "CLAIRE"

Miss Windsor's attorney pictured Read as an impulsive, ardent wooer who first told her that he was unmarried, and later declared he planned a divorce, but Mrs. Read's attorney told the jury Miss Windsor was the aggressor in the love affair.

"There wasn't any triangle," Miss Windsor declared to reporters.

The business of the Federal grand jury, having to do with bank checkers and bank robbers and such, is serious business.

But it is as nothing at all compared with the troubles of Aunt U. S. City. Ethel D. Stone, who put her foot in it when she accused telephone operators of tipping off run runners when government men were about to swoop down on them.

He made that accusation in connection with the seizure of the liquor carter Pugh's week ago. Since then there has been no peace for him, she said today.

"The woman with the smile" has lost all his cheer and good will when he hears it now, he said. And he has been hearing it lately. The telephone operators of New England, hundreds of them, have risen in wrath to resent his remarks.

Plane With 3 Men Missing in Mexico

Mexico, D. F., Aug. 31 (AP)—The airplane in which Mack R. Ayres of Los Angeles was flying two passengers and about $2000 for a road workers' payroll from Mazatlan to La Paz, Lower California, today was believed lost at sea.

No reports of them have been received since Tuesday morning, although a widespread search was conducted.

He hopes the regular operators will understand and forgive. It will give him great peace of mind if they do. And that's what he needs today because the Raeburn case is before the federal grand jury.

TELLS GRAND JURY

Stone went before the "jura" today to tell them how the 76-foot craft was seized at Sealtique with a contraband cargo, valued at $60,000 and about 18 men were arrested.

Present in the jury ante-room were Thomas Dwyer, who was freed in $2000 bail, and a man who gave his name as James Barry Tadd, a judge on an assault and battery charge.

Patrolman Eugene Fitzgerald and Inspector James P. McCann, Jr., Lowell police officers, described Lowberg as "a loafer" who allowed his family to live on welfare.

Outside the court, following a statement of the non-support charge, Lowberg engaged officers in a fight. He was again arrested.

Returned to court, Lowberg was found guilty of assault and he will be sentenced, Tuesday, when the non-support complaint will be disposed of.

NAVAL CHIEFS DEMAND U. S. FLEET BE KEPT IN PACIFIC

Establishment of Japanese Bases On Far Eastern Islands Brings Clamor For Adequate Protection

Washington, Aug. 31 (U.S.)—Japan's establishment of potential naval bases in the far flung Pacific islands held under the League of Nations mandate brought swelling demands today among the American naval high command to build up an adequate naval defense.

Experts, watching Japan steadily increasing its stronghold in the Pacific, and thrusting out its naval lines toward the United States, insist prompt steps should be taken by this country to offset Japanese superiority.

Admiral William H. Standley, Chief of Naval Operations, has announced emphatically the American fleet would be kept on the West coast. It will not be divided by sending some ships back to the Atlantic.

He carefully avoided any reference to Japan or war talk, but said that for strategic and economic reasons the fleet should not be decentralized.

Other high naval officers said that to retire from the Pacific would be bad policy.

New warships being built under the naval construction program will be concentrated on the west coast as rapidly as they are completed. Further, the navy has elaborate plans for two great naval bases at Mare Island and Puget Sound. They will be equipped to administer all needs of the U. S. fleet. There also would be a naval air station at each base, and anti-aircraft batteries scattered along the coast.

Secretary of the Navy Swanwood is pressing for funds to increase America's weakened naval air defense, and to complete modernization of battleships. He has asked the public works board for $157,500,000 for this work.

Through deepening and improving harbors, Japan, working secretly, has provided strategic bases in the islands that will accommodate submarines, airplanes and cruisers. These are primarily attacking weapons.

The United States has nothing comparable. Japan officially disclaims harbor improvements, were dictated by military purposes. The official reason is a desire to open up the islands to commerce. Trade is negligible, however, and the islands are sparsely populated.

Teachers Told Read Crime Stories

Cincinnati, Aug. 31 (AP)—Rules for being a good teacher, as promulgated by Dr. C. R. Campbell, president of the Hamilton County board of education, before a county teachers institute.

The station man notified police who captured the suspects in a wood. They had abandoned their car in which, police said, 500 counterfeit 50-cent pieces were found.

Miss Tata was warned in two anonymous letters, following announcement of her engagement to Baque, that death would overtake her if she married him.

Raquel left town the following day, and Miss Tata disappeared Monday after telling her mother, Mrs. Frank Angeli, that she intended to go to work.

Immediate search was started for her on the theory that she might have been kidnaped, but Police Chief John H. Meade received information early today that the girl had joined her sweetheart in New York to be married. He planned to start for that city at once to search for her.

ISN'T it about time somebody organized a code for housewives? For who works harder or longer or more steadily or at lower wages!

Unfortunately, it is not in our power to write such a code much as we might wish to. We can, however, suggest a method of shortening your working hours and reducing the length of your working days.

That method is to use more electricity and to employ more electric appliances in your home. The newest electric appliance to shorten the housewife's working day is the modern electric range. More and more women are turning to it. It is fast, it is wonderfully efficient, it is superbly clean, and—here's a point we wish to emphasize—it is truly economical. Recent tests at the Edison Friendly Kitchen give us these figures:

Breakfast for four: less than 2 cents to cook
Luncheon for six: less than 4 cents to cook
Dinner for six: less than 10 cents to cook

These figures are genuine, reliable, authentic—measured by residence meter.

Of course, you can afford to cook electrically, but, if you doubt it, just come in and talk it over with us... then you'll know the truth about the modern way to cook—which is electrically!

BISHOP DUNN OF NEW YORK DIES IN HOSPITAL

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Most Rev. John J. Dunn, auxiliary bishop of the Catholic diocese of New York, died in St. Vincent's Hospital today. He would have been 82 years old tomorrow.

He was consecrated auxiliary bishop in 1921, had been treasurer of the archdiocese since 1922 and was supreme spiritual director of the Holy Name Society.

He was also founder, in 1904, of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Born in New York City, son of John and Mary (Gassidy) Dunn, he was ordained to the priesthood in 1896.

Dunn resulted from a heart attack, suffered at noon yesterday as he sat on the porch of the convent of Mount St. Mary, Newburgh, N. Y., where he had been on vacation since the latter part of July.

The bishop had made no preparations for observing his birthday tomorrow. He intended to return to his home parish after Labor Day.

Bishop Dunn never lost consciousness. An Father McDonnell administered the last sacraments, he said.

"Well, I'm prepared to go, if the Lord wants me."

From then until his death, Father McDonnell said, he was calm and resigned.

Safety First Is New White House Deal

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—To prevent visitors to the White House—and its occupants—from being injured by falling masonry, the office of National Parks and Buildings today began spending its first public works dollars on repairs to the Executive Mansion corridors.

Approximately $5000 will be spent, Anna R. Cammerer, director of parks announced. About $2000 of it will go for two new counterweights to replace weathered ones.

Cammerer, in announcing the work, said it would be completed before President Roosevelt returns. Its added:

"It is exceedingly important to eliminate the danger of injury through falling off of masonry or the falling of stone badly weathered."

German Liner Europa delivered letters in London and Berlin four days after they left New York. That "only four days" will seem, to future generations, as queer as though we said now "only four months."

If the United States would act, we should have American dirigibles flying back and forth between this country and Europe, as they now fly back and forth between Brazil and Germany, and mail from New York would be distributed in Paris, London, Berlin and Rome within 48 hours.

After the pair fled, Linn was taken to Chelsea Memorial Hospital. He was sent home after six stitches were made to close his wound.

Forest Army to Stay Here for Winter

New England's Forest Army is not going to the sunny South for the winter.

Quilike Conservation Camps in this area will be transformed into winter quarters with warm barracks instead of tents, Maj. Gen. Fox Conner, commanding officer of the First Corps Area, announced here today. His decision will be accepted in Washington, it was learned.

Plans for the transformation were being drawn up today by Gen. Conner with the assistance of C. R. Trullion, of the United States Forest Service, and Frank H. Haynes, liaison officer, between the Army and the State Conservation Department.

The Army last week called for bids on more than 15,000,000 feet of lumber to be used in building the winter barracks. It was announced today that local carpenters, and not C. C. workers, will be engaged to construct the buildings. It was pointed out that there will be enough other work for the forest soldiers, and that it is desired to give employment to as much skilled help in the communities near the various C. C. camps as possible.

... for taking money out of taxpayers' pockets

You have never seen this man, but if you drive a car you have been his victim.

His name is "Hi" Driving Cost. He is laying for you on the street that is LESS-THAN-CONCRETE. For every mile you drive on such a street, he exacts his tribute. He makes you buy more tires, more gasoline. He runs up your repair bills.

High Driving Cost makes "cheap" streets dear at any price. This has been proved, once and for all, by impartial surveys of driving costs on all types of road surfaces. These surveys show that with even moderate traffic, the cost of transportation—paying cost plus driving cost—is less on CONCRETE than on any other kind, even including an unpaved dirt roadway.

If you're interested in getting the most for your taxes—and in lower taxes, insist upon CONCRETE for the streets you want and need. It saves you money as a motorist. It saves you money as a taxpayer—for CONCRETE costs far less to maintain. And CONCRETE streets are better looking, easier to ride on, safer in any weather.

Insist on CONCRETE for your streets—get the most and best street for the money—and the maximum employment for labor!

COMEBACK BY OLD FAVORITE Snore Is Star's Give-Away SHUBERT OPENING IS TRIUMPH

Corinne Griffith Expected to Return to Screen in Role in Loretta Young Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Motion Picture Editor Universal Service

Los Angeles, Aug. 31—Always at the eleventh hour Corinne Griffith, who has been chary of staging a return to talking motion pictures, has backed out. This time Darryl Zanuck, who has been in communication with Miss Griffith, now in Washington, D. C., believes she will actually put her name to a Twentieth Century contract.

Mr. Zanuck is seeking Corinne for the role of the other woman in "Born to Be Bad," Loretta Young has starring honors, but Miss Griffith's part is equally good. I hope Corinne will not let the fact that Miss Young's role is the stellar one stand in her way. She is too young, too beautiful and too good an actress to be foolish. Starring roles, goodness, are no more important than an equally good part.

Goodness, too, athletes, particularly those of the fight world, are getting lots of jobs these days. Sammie Stein, well known to the fans, has been given a contract for five weeks with Radio. He is a "frustrating" (apologies to Mark Twain) who plays the role in "Patrol," finally set for Victor McLaglen.

Laurel Parsons, for, as we announced a day or two ago, draws the Richard Dix lead.

Gloria Swanson is doing her very best to try to persuade Joseph Schilder and Samuel Zieglar to let her go to Honolulu for Claudette Colbert's role in the Cecil De Mille picture, "Four Frightened People." She is under contract to Schilder and Zieglar, and unless they will let her she will be unable to make the picture on which she has set her heart. It would be interesting to see Gloria and De Mille together again, for it was in his picture that she first made her big success. In those days he used to dress her in the most extravagant costumes and how the dear public ate it up.

Terzan Waits
 Trouble in the "Terzan" company. Rumor has it that Rod La Rocque and Cedric Gibbons, the director, haven't been getting along very well together and that someone else will be asked for the part Rod was to have had in the picture featuring Johnny Weissmuller, Cecil Hamilton and Maureen O'Sullivan. The "Terzan" company has moved in from location pending the selection of another actor.

Chatter in Hollywood
 Hollywood was greeted with interesting eyes the romance of Ricardo Cortez and pretty Mrs. Lester Lee. Reno divorcee, Rick has hardly looked at another girl since Mrs. Lee reached town. She was formerly Christine Coniff and frequently visited here before her marriage to Lester Lee, well known Wall St. broker. She only recently obtained her divorce.

Both Mrs. Lee and Cortez deny an engagement, although it has been frequently rumored.

A Line or Two

Richard De Angelis, son of Jefferson De Angelis, veteran stage actor, telephones to say that he and a Miss Chloë Douglas will be married this week. After the ceremony that unites Edward Sedgwick, director, and Mrs. Ebbu Haver on Sunday, they will be guests of honor at a buffet supper and reception given by Mr. Sedgwick's mother, Leslie Fenlon, for the first time since he was married. Ann Dwyer, away from "Arrow Brothers," is back on the lot. He used to make many pictures before he and his wife went holidaying in Europe and forgot her contract. He plays opposite Jeanette Cagney in "The Finger Man." John H. Johnson, one of those well known directors that many of our actors and actresses are getting for themselves lately. He goes to Radio on a picture for Darryl Zanuck. Thelma Down, on "Monte Cristo" for Fredric March, who has decided against making it.

Snapshots of Hollywood

BARBARA WELLES and BIG ROY WILLIAMS are coming these days. They were guests at the JOHN BRANDENBERG barbecue. So were BARI MARITZA, VIVIAN GAYNE and TONY MORENO. EDDIE HILLMAN who carried the torch for MARIAN NIXON on faithfully is enrolling himself with MARY CARLISLE. They lunch together often these days in the Beverly Derby. FRANCES MARION has finished her book, "Pope Valley," and is off to visit her father in San Francisco. JACK DEMPSEY and the "Cheerful Little" Earl are back in town. They were guests at the opening of the Montmartre. EUGENE STARKER, who is manager of this new night spot, welcomed JACK, his bride and their five guests. DOBBIE ARNST and BUSTER WEST were the headliners on the program. LEON ERROL, REBT WHEELER, LEE TRACY and GEORGE BLACKWOOD were among those who took bows. CAROLE LOMBARD has taken a house in Hills. WILLIAM HAINES is turning in in Hollywood style. BERT DANIELS, BEN LYON and BARBARA DEBBE called yesterday on the De Frances for home. GRACE MOORE welcomed back to Hollywood. That's all today.

Exeter Theater

Charles Ruggles in "Mama Loves Papa" and Jean Parker in "What Price Innocence?" are the attractions at the Exeter for the remainder of the week.

Hollywood itself would get a laugh out of this one—so, too, Gary Cooper's fan world. Remember the film, "Out All Night"—well, the title perhaps applies here. For the famed hero of the movies was so weary that he snored off for a nanosecond. His snoring once him away—a friend quietly put up the joke card, and tipped off the news photographer who sped to the scene pronto. It was a grand chance for a "snore" and a picture wholly out of the ordinary. It's a comedy in itself what you might term a "too realer"—just too real for Gary's dignity when it comes to the "snoring" later.

Fair Play

Mary Brinn, shining in "Moonlight and Pretzels," featured on Bowdoin screen Sunday.

Tenor Featured

Rudolph Cafferly, lyric tenor, is featured on the stage at Loew's State for one week, beginning tomorrow. He will be heard in a song presentation which includes selections from "The Student Prince," in which he was starred.

"Hold Your Horses" Brilliant Success With Joe Cook at the Head of the Starry Parade

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

In a big way "Hold Your Horses" last night set the ball to rolling for the new season along the Rialto. It was a gala evening for all concerned—for an audience that filled all rows, top to toe, and the box chairs, too. For Joe Cook and his vast company of entertainers, and for the Shuberts, Lee and J. J., both modestly, but very happily, present in person. And for all their staff of art and technical experts. A great show, both as to equipment, content and its ceaseless barrage of superior entertainment. It may be looked upon as a rededication of this Sam S. Shubert theater to the memory of a true showman and a renewed pledge to the service of the most expert showmanship.

"Hold Your Horses" is musical extravaganza in its most extravagant form. Therefore it runs a wide range. It brings Joe Cook's vehicle, he is given the reins, and often he literally runs riot, which is as it should be. That in itself is guarantee of more humor than is usually packed in three minutes of musical comedy. Song and dance are liberally interwoven; also, a thread of a story to bind the scenes together.

Joe Cook himself, in his role of a rascal, but his chance to a r political art proving a distinct high light. T. H. s. male is so deftly dovetailed to the mode of the musical, that this, as a result, is a rich asset. The blended hues in costumes, the scenic harmonies, and the general color scheme, make the production a rare gem—an eyeful as well as an earful.

There, in brief, you have a summing up of the smartest and merriest evening in the theater the old town has seen in many moons. As presented on this first night, "Hold Your Horses" had the generous value of two shows in one. Packed with features, there being 20 scenes programmed for the two acts, it ran, smoothly and crisply, from 8:22 by the watch, until the strokes of midnight. Several passages were eliminated on the spot, and others will have to be pruned to bring the production within the usual time limits. But are golden minutes in there, and once shalapha, it can be counted on to prove an outstanding bit of the season.

Effects Are Brilliant
 For its delightful this "musical runaway" swings us down memory lane to the "turn of the century." Familiar folk of the stage appear as real personalities of that era—Reactor, Diamond Jim Brady, Anna Held, Lillian Russell, even John L. Sullivan. In passing, it may be suggested that closer attention to choice of resemblances, both as to physique and makeup, would much improve this aspect of a many angled entertainment.

The cast is a mighty long one—there is even a George Spelvin. The settings are generally superb; some are lifelike that they rank with the best the stage has seen. These things may be mentioned Mike's Saloon, an amusing scene; Cardfield's, the ballroom, the ballet, Conny Island and the chase wherein the irre-

Cook's Complete Show
 But the flower is there, even if not full blown at the moment. This is the Ziegfeld touch, plus Joe Cook. Which is just what "Hold Your Horses" must necessarily be.

This is a grand show, a triumph if there ever was one. It is old-time extravaganza with the added touch of modern stagecraft. With the sole exception of "Of Thee I Sing" I think the most satisfying musical piece I have seen since before the depression set in.

presumably Mr. Cook finds himself also a part of spirit world after the order of a modern Ben Hur.

Patricia Another Star
 Frequently the effects are so brilliantly achieved that spontaneous applause is evoked. A notable instance of this is when the revolving stage swings into view the Florsdora Seattle, cheerily shown at first as if the audience's backstage. Still another was in the midst of the astonishingly beautiful Harriet Hector interlude.

Of the performers there are several winning the laurels that go with stopping the show cold. Mr. Cook himself, perhaps the best one-man show in all the wide world, has never equalled his current effort. Moreover, his gadgets are even more varied and more effective than they are, and all his say company of stagers, evokes more deep laughs than we can recall for any one evening in any theater.

Has Ziegfeld Touch

Tom Patrician, one of the finest of all dancers, and his partner, Inez Courtney, Miss Hector and her troupe, were others accorded the tribute of long continued applause.

"Hold Your Horses" is the best show of its kind in at least a half dozen years. In every way the Shuberts have attended to its needs with lavish hands.

Some of the color harmonies, an impressive if not a complete, so brisk and breezy is its tempo, that I am inclined to think that it makes the laying of the Florsdora Ziegfeld mantle on the shoulders of these Shubert Brothers.

In an other week, perhaps less time, one will find it more compact, yet an ever more striking success, in its colorful passages, to the achievements of the Great Ziegfeld. The one factor that minimizes this, is that it is a Joe Cook show, and therefore, brimming with his personality and works. Yet no one would forget the marvelous condition, and the full flowering of the Ziegfeld spectacle can come in some later Shubert production.

"beacon hill"

By Betty Alden

WE ARE PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE the marriage yesterday of Dorothy Jane Imbrie of New York, daughter of Mr. James Imbrie and Mrs. Marie McCreia Imbrie of Bayville, L. I., to George Huntress Grant, son of Mrs. Wilbur Samuel Grant of Boston and Peterboro and the late Wilbur S. Grant of Rochester, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed at the Chestnut Hill home of Mrs. Philip K. Brown (Rachel H. Grant) beautifully situated on Monksdock at... the bride and bridegroom stood before a bank of garden flowers and evergreens and a collation was served in the garden... it was a simple but lovely summer wedding...

Mr. William Mayo, uncle of the bride, gave the bride's hand in marriage and Mrs. Philip Brown, sister of the groom, attended her as matron of honor...

The bride was very lovely in Mrs. Brown's wedding dress and rare lace veil and the two small children of Philip Brown, Philip (Buddy) Jr., and Gloria, were flower attendants.

The matron of honor's gown was soft ocean wave green with touches of white...

Mrs. Wilbur Grant, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a sheer black flowered chiffon with black hat trimmed with white flowers...

As the young couple will appear on the stage in New York next season and were planning to go over for rehearsals, the wedding was hastened to next month. Only the immediate family and a few intimate friends attended...

Bride Appeared in Festival Plays
MRS. GRANT (MISS IMBRIE) APPEARED IN MANY of the Peterboro Festival Plays this summer and is a talented artist... she was graduated from Miss Chapin's School in New York and studied in Paris for two years under Jacques Copeau...

Mr. Grant attended St. George's School, Newport, R. I., and was a member of the class of 1933 at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

Among the guests who were glimpsed at the wedding were Mrs. Richardson Harwood in a smart white crepe with large black hat, very becoming...

Mrs. Francis R. Hart in white frock with sapphire blue jacket and white hat trimmed with blue...

Mrs. John U. Leonard, very chic in sky blue crepe, very attractive white hat with blue and a corsage of roses and larkspur...

Also noted were Mrs. Dan Farnsworth, Mr. Johnathan Brown, 34, and Mrs. Dana Baird, who served Mr. Grant as best man.

The young couple are leaving today for New York, where Mr. Grant will take up his duties as assistant manager of the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Will Spend Week-End on Cape
MR. AND MRS. HORACE MORSE of Peterboro and Boston are visiting at Chatham on Cape Cod over the week-end...

We made the attempt to attend the premiere of Hold Your Horses at the Shubert Theatre last evening, but it would appear that one must be an Elk or one of the King's Horses or somebody to have them accept your money... even after reserving our chair at our most reliable agency they refused our three-thirty-five...

Some racketeer came in and offered them three-thirty-eight maybe. There is much matter with the theater business... when a society editor is not encouraged to attend, a premiere cannot be a very brilliant affair, socially.

Glimpsed blonde and blue-eyed Jane Kellogg of Wellesley, post-debutante of another season, shopping for a snappy fur coat yesterday with her very-very-rich aunt, Miss Hunnewell of Wellesley.

The tabbies are saying that young "Bob" Grant is paying marked attention to a debutante of last season, the tall, dark-eyed Nancy Shaw.

Miss Virginia Wells, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Wells of Marblehead, left last Saturday for Chicago to be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Warren David Owen (Ruth Thompson) at Chimney Cottage in Lake Forest.

She will remain there for several weeks and will take in the Century of Progress before returning. Several parties have been planned in her honor. Miss Wells will make her debut in October at the Bray Bryn Idon in Newton.

Mrs. Robert Almy to Judge at Show
MRS. ROBERT ALMY, M. F. H. of the Dedham Hunt Club, will judge the horsemanship classes and saddle events at the Dublin Horse Show on Saturday... the affair will be held on the estate of the Hon. Franklin McVeigh of Chicago and will be the annual event of the Riding and Walking Club of that exclusive resort...

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Channing of Dover and Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Bird of Framingham are to be the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Whiting at Sonoma...

Mr. and Mrs. Almy will be guests of Miss Amelia Peabody of Dublin during the holiday festivities...

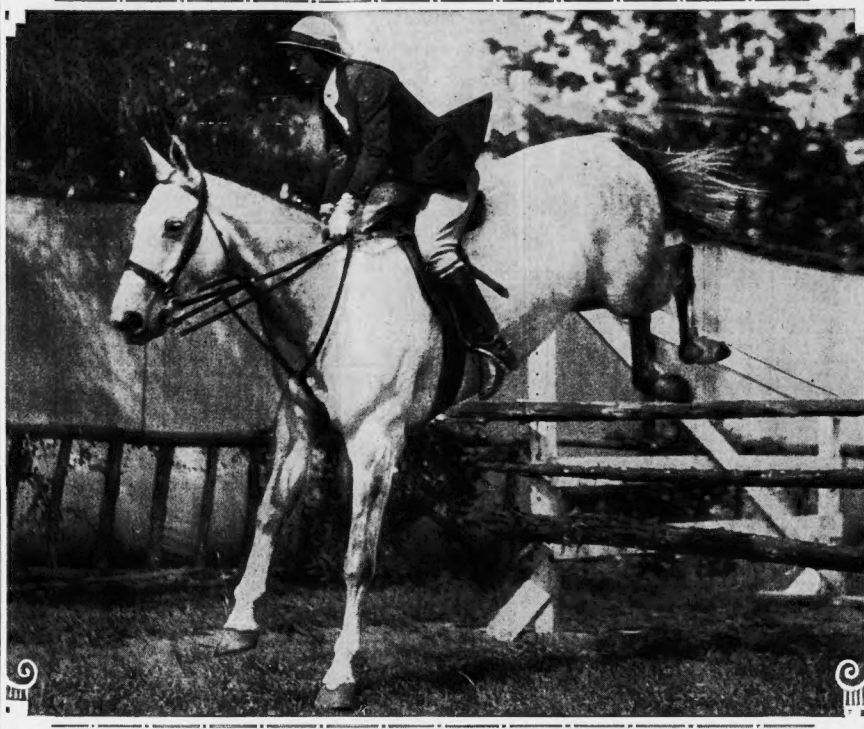

Among those from Boston who will assist Mrs. Louis C. Gerry of Providence, who has charge of arrangements for the show, are Junia Mason, one of the sweetest debutantes of two seasons ago, Mrs. Gorham Brooks, Mrs. William A. Taylor, Jr., Miss Amelia Peabody and Mr. Clarence C. Pell. The affair will add the Chestnut Circle Humane Society.

New Styles of the Fashionables
By Dorothy Whipple Fry

INTELLIGENCE is an important factor in the success of any costume this season—or for that matter any season. From time to time one comes upon people with the mistaken impression that dressing well is a frivolous pursuit followed by the light-minded. As a matter of fact a woman who is really well-dressed—that is, smartly, becomingly, appropriately dressed—has been a woman of intelligence.

BLINKER ALARM COLLAPSES IN EMERGENCY

Police Commissioner Hultman's pet blinker system fell on its face in full view of hundreds of citizens as the police head prepared to confer with Gov. Ely on the abandonment of the Jay at station. After waiting more than 15 minutes for police to respond to an alarm from a blinker at 34 in Oliver street, an injured man was placed in a passing automobile and taken to Haymarket Relief Hospital.

Commissioner Hultman has had criticism of Beacon Hill and the West End that he intends to install the blinker system in that section to take the place of the Jay at station. The breakdown of the system occurred last night following an automobile crash, as hundreds of persons were leaving the office in Mill and Oliver streets. While driving on Oliver at the corner of 15th, the blinker car, which was in the rear of a line of cars, was struck by a car coming from the rear. The car was overturned and a citizen's arm was broken. But it was no accident, as the police officer who was on duty at the time had been seen in the neighborhood of the accident.

THE STORICAL BOSTON IS READING AND TALKING ABOUT OPERATOR 13

Gaillard Joins His Colleague in Pursuit of Operator 13

READ THIS FIRST

Gail Loveless, at 20, became a spy in the Federal service and was designated as Operator 13. In the disguise of a quad-room laundress, she was sent in the headquarters of Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, Confederate cavalry leader, who was planning a daring raid into Pennsylvania.

Capt. Gaillard, leader of Stuart's spies, flirted with her, kissed her, fell half in love with her and was ashamed of himself. He and Belle Boyd, most famous Confederate woman spy, were convinced that "Lucille Lyndon," as she called herself, was a genuine colored girl and harmless. But Vespasian Chancellier, Gaillard's colleague, suspected her. Eventually he exposed her as a spy. She stole Gaillard's horse, struck him in the face with his own pistol and fled.

Barred from flight in any other direction, she boldly joined Stuart's cavalry as it started north on its Pennsylvania raid. She stalked Yellow Bob, Stuart's groom, into letting her ride one of the general's horses, after she had robbed a little farm boy of his clothes in order to disguise herself as a colored stable boy. Vespasian Chancellier joined Stuart. As the ride he turned and looked back, full into the face of Operator 13 as she rode with Yellow Bob.

Reprinted from Comopolitan Magazine and soon to appear on the screen as a Comopolitan production made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and starring Marion Davies.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Yellow Bob's affron features were familiar to the chief of spies; his keen eyes lingered on Operator 13, glanced at the horses, reverted to the girl with the unconscious instinct of a suspicious, watchful hound. Then Joe Sweeney unsling his banjo, tuned it deftly, raised his voice in a song which the general took up, and the entire staff began to sing to the enchanting rhapsody of the banjo.

"I know er pretty lil gal,

Down Moblie;

Front name's Honey, hind name's

Sai;

Down Moblie,

Onlie's rag she got to give yuh

A she tick-up new-laid sack,

But layseme when she give yuh

er smack,

Hit like Joe's lak

A hot honey-babe,

To me in de sun,

A-hoh! de co'en.

She give me er smack,

An' hit face 'er lak

Wuk a-din'ing-aw,

Tell her mouf was driptin'

Lak er peach dat's bit.

An' Ah 'spee' Ah'd die befo' she quit.

Chorus

"Tae got a pretty lil gal,

Down Moblie,

Front name's Honey, hind name's

Sai.

Thus rode the laughing general and his staff into Yankee land to the twang of a banjo and an old

Louisiana melody.

SWEETING ON

Eastward and westward the broad-gray wings of the northward-marking gray brigades swept the Pennsylvania countryside clean of horses and saw no hostile horsemen. The column proceeded by brigades. In the center of each brigade traveled prisoners and captured led horses.

Once the general looked around at his led horse and said banteringly to Bob: "I suppose you were clever enough to ride one horse and lead two? Where did you find that little black boy?"

Yellow Bob was too scared to reply, and merely rolled ashamed and frightened eyes. It passed as a jest—yet Chancellier turned twice to look with that unconscious "instinct" of his at the ragged Negro led riding Styler.

Toward dark it began to rain

as the column rode to the east.

It was a little after 8 o'clock when the gray-jacketed horsemen entered a dark, wooded

HILL STAFF GIVES BRAVES EDGE ON GIANTS SAYS RABBIT

By WALTER "RABBIT" MARANVILLE

Braves Captain
Writes Especially for the Boston Evening American, Copyright, 1933
How will the Braves fare against the Giants?

Possessing no sixth sense and being no seventh son of a seventh son, frankly I don't know.

I do know that the series offers us an opportunity that we've been waiting all season and if we must it, it will not be because of lack of confidence and fight.

"I've never been connected with a ball club that had more courage and faith in itself and, remember, I was on a championship team here in 1914 and on another in 1924.

Rabbit Maranville

Bill McKeebie steered that Mound City team to the pennant, proving that we have a pilot capable of leading us to the heights. But that's not news. Bill's feat of leading us from seventh place in June to second place today proves he is the game's ace boss.

It seems to me that pitching will settle this series. The Braves have made both clubs all season. It isn't likely that hitting or fielding will push the flinging into the background during the next four afternoons.

So far the Giants have accomplished more with their pitchers than we have, but I think the Braves have the better staff and will prove it in these crucial games.

Bill Terry has four outstanding hurlers in Hubbell, Parmelee, Schumacher and Fitzsimmons. The other New York flingers rate little consideration.

We have the most effective pitcher in the circuit in Ben Outwell, and five aces to help him out, Ed Brandt, Fred Frankhouse, Mack Batts, Tom Zachary and Bobby Smith. And if you don't think six is worth more than three when six games are to be played in four afternoons, you don't know your baseball.

Another point that may but shouldn't be overlooked is the schedule of the two clubs for the past week.

The Giants have played ten games since last Friday. One of the 'big four' has been in every game. They're tired and they'll be a lot wearier before Sunday rolls around.

The Braves, on the other hand, have played only five games over that stretch. Our pitchers are well rested and will be able to toe easily and often, thus I wouldn't be surprised if every starter went through to the finish.

Mind you, I'm not underestimating the Giants. Neither is any of the other Braves. Critics like to sneer at the New Yorkers, but Bill Terry is a capable manager and he has a formidable, hustling ball club. They've suffered their share of reverses and have come back stronger than ever. They've been setting the pace most of the way. They'll not be pushed around even if we have beaten them nine out of 14 times in date. The law of averages now favors them. And six games lead offers plenty of moral support.

I repeat, though, that in my opinion, we have the better pitching and if the series runs true to form, our mound strength should give us enough victories to make a serious pennant factor.

The Giants can cinch the flag here. We can't. The best we can do is to turn the race into a five-covered struggle before we accompany the Giants out of town on Sunday evening to spend most of September in the West.

But if we can accomplish that much, I have a hunch nobody will stop us.

I have had experience in how clubs travel when they suddenly emerge from the wilderness into the favored land. George Stallings' Arizona-to-forget-it-miracle team, of which I was a member, had a tough struggle getting to the top, but it outdistanced all rivals once it gained the peak. I look for Bill McKeebie to '33 outfit to do the same thing, if it ever finds itself on the roof.

We're in perfect shape for the series. I understand the Giants are, too. Neither club will be able to offer an alibi when the shouting is over.

May the better club win. And may the better club be the Braves.

Boston, the finest baseball town in the land, deserves the finest ball club.

(Read Maranville's report of today's game in tomorrow's American.)

LEO BROWN ON WAY TO GOLF CROWN

BY BILL CHIMPER

Leo Brown, Presidential, is apparently on his way toward winning the Commonwealth Country Club Tuesday open for the second successive year. A year ago Brown led the field with a 21 and today with an even 25, made 10 the best in 35 and home in 32.

Paul Conner, Scarsboro, was two strokes behind the leader, with a 23, while John H. H. in a third place with C. P. McCall.

Mike Gulligan, former Brown, had been had the hole in 35, while 73-66, while Francis Galvin, Commonwealth, and Bill Webster, Scarsboro, were tied for low gross with 77.

Dr. J. Croome, Commonwealth, came in with an 87 gross in Class C and E. F. Braddock, Dorchester, had the low net 88-22-63.
